GRADUATION YEARS

QUESTIONS/ANSWERS

When will the literacy assessment be implemented? Will it be tied to a course, or standalone? What assessment indicators will be used?

- x More detail about the timing of the implementation of the literacy assessment will be forthcoming
- x The literacy assessment will be a graduation requirement, and is not tied to any course.
- x The literacy assessment, like numeracy, will be reported on a proficiency scale and appear as a standalone item on a student's transcript.
- x Students can improve their proficiency by rewriting the literacy assessment during their graduation years (Grades 11-12).
- x Until the literacy assessment is implemented in 2018/19, the Language Arts 12 exam will remain in place and will continue to be 40% of the final course mark for Language Arts 12

How long do students have to write or rewrite the previous provincial exam

- x The current Math 10 exams will be replaced with a new numeracy assessment in the 2017/18 school year.
- x Students who have completed courses associated with discontinued Grade 10/11 exams by June 30, 2016 will have until June 2017 to write/write their exams.

All current Grade 10 and 11 provincial exams will be discontinued on June 30, 2017. About students who completed all of the required courses and provincial exams? Will they
